Operation Encompass

School participates in a national scheme called 'Operation Encompass', which is a joint partnership between Northumbria Police and schools. One of the principles of Operation Encompass is that all incidents of domestic abuse are shared with schools, not just those where an offence can be identified. This system has been established to help schools provide in-school support to children who have been present at, exposed to, or involved in any domestic abuse incident. We know that children can be significantly harmed, physically and/or emotionally, during these situations, and that it also negatively affects their learning and behaviour. Therefore, as part of the Operation Encompass procedure, and to help mitigate the resulting negative impact, the school receives an email the morning after a child has been witness to, or involved in, any reported domestic abuse incident. We are then able to use this information to provide timely support to any child and their family.

Online safety is an important part of keeping children safe at Cleaswell Hill School. Pupils' are taught about how to stay safe online. This will be more successful if we work together to help reinforce safe online behaviours at home.

As Christmas draws near, many children and young people may be looking forward to receiving new electronic toys, devices and games, so we'd like to share some simple online safety tips to help parents and carers make safer choices and support their children online over the festive break.

Please look out for our 'Online Safety at Christmas Time' information plus a Parents' Guide to Gifting Tech from Ineqe Safeguarding Group on School Ping and the website.

We wish you all a safe Christmas and healthy New Year
